It is quite tricky. A nice way to start is making paper aeroplanes. A paper plane: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r9ReNKZiZnc A bit more challenging: Heart : https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Z-BIL6p1Te8 Very Challenging: Dinosaur https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IKOVYw9R7oI Outdoor Challenge: As your writing this week is about being outdoors here is another outdoor challenge. However, if you have no access to a garden or park, that is not a problem. This can also be done indoors. Build a bridge. Gather as many loose parts as you can. Boxes, tubs, wood, recycling, tins, buckets.... Try and build a bridge that you can walk across. My daughter built a bridge indoors for her teddies. Photos on Learning Journals. Remember to be responsible when you are finished and tidy everything away. We'd love to see your photos if possible.

We have been overwhelmed by the AMAZING tea parties that you had at home. All of the incredible cakes, sandwiches and sweeties looked delicious. It was so lovely to see all the fun that you were having in the sun.

You've caught my eye this week:

Ruben has been working really hard on his money work this week, we are very impressed with his handwriting practise. Happy Birthday to Simon's cat, I hope that they had a lovely day. Brian has been working hard on his addition work all with a big smile on his face. We loved seeing all of the baking and party creating that was happening. There were some lovely invitations sent to family and toys to share in the great fun. Brodie, your beautiful stick heart brought a tear to our eyes!

Stay safe in the sun this week.

Look out for who catches our eye next week.
